REYNOLDS THRASHER, foreground, visited Elba and the Pea River Dam-park site on Friday of last week. Thrasher is head of the state Bureau of Outdoor Recreation. This is the department Coffee County has approached for funding to develop the Pea River Dam site into a public recreation park.

THRASHER, Elba Mayor Owen Ziglar, Probate Judge James Sawyer, and Sawyer's son Tommy Tommy sit at lone picnic table and discuss proposed park project. Thrasher was very receptive to the project after viewing the site, noting it was a perfect place for just such a park. Thrasher offered his full support in getting the project approved for federal grants.

Schools Get Money From State Bond Issue Sale

City and county school officials are now able to begin counting money they requested almost a year ago. The first disbursements from the education bond issue was announced on Friday, July 12th by Governor Wallace.

Approved in the summer of 1973, the bonds have been contingent on two points: approval of the governor and the condition of the Special Education Trust Fund.

Elba City School Superintendent Elmer Taylor requested $70,000 for the purchasing of school buses. Taylor says, "The appropriated funds will be used to purchase seven new school buses and equipment for the bus shop."

County School Superintendent Jimmy Baker reports that five new buses will be purchased with the $34,000 earmarked for Coffee County schools.

Baker reports that upon purchasing these buses the county system will be using eight 1964 models with the remainder of the buses being 1969 models or newer. The system will then be on a rotating basis and will retire the 1964 models next year. They will no longer be running buses older than 9 years old.

Elba Lions Select Officers For Coming Year

The Elba Lions Club chose last Thursday night to install their officers for the coming year. Present for the activities were Mr. Robert Gholston, a past District Governor and Mr. Bill Chandler, International Director of Lions Club. Both men are from Montgomery.

eu Rowe. The new officers are from left: Joel Beck, Treasurer; J. D. Lowery, Secretary and Treasurer; Fulton Clark, James Brown and Flornoy Whitman directors; Robert

Commission Approve Senior Aides

Three members of the Coffee County Commissioners Court and Judge of Probate, James L. Sawyer, met in an adjourned meeting on Thursday, July 11 at 10 a.m. Commissioners J. Albert Dyess, Flornoy Whitman and O. V. Waters met in the Elba Court-house with representatives of the city municipalities located in the county for the purpose of activating the proposed Senior Aides Program. Frank Sawyer, New Brockton Mayor; Owen Ziglar, Elba Mayor; and Johnny Vaughan, representing the Coffee County School Board met with the court.

Judge Sawyer opened the discussion with the fact that Coffee County had been allotted 9 slots for senior aide employment. These employees must be 55 years old or older and on the Social Security roster. Each employee would cost the county a total of $210.66 a year for 20 hours of work on a 50 week basis with possible renewal of the grant.

Mayor Ziglar inquired about placement and informed that any non-profit organization located in Coffee County was eligible to participate in the program. Some areas of placement discussed were: libraries, hospitals, nursing homes (these having priority), health departments, schools and city and county governments.

Ziglar was very enthusiastic about the program's possibilities and asked that the City of Elba be allotted 3 employees. He stated that Hospital Administrator Nichols would like 2, one each for the hospital and nursing home and the City Water Works department was in need of a warehouse inventory clerk. Ziglar conveyed the idea that the hospital planned to use the aides in the area of planned recreation and entertainment of the nursing home residents. They were toying with a similar plan for the hospital.

Vaughan, representing Mr. Baker of the County School Board, felt that 3 slots could be filled in the various county educational fields. He wanted to place the aides in libraries and in contact with the students feeling that the 2 generations could enlighten the other in a sharing program.

Mayor Sawyer requested 1 employee to be used in the New Brockton city government. The court felt that the allocations of the employees, and the fact that only 9 slots had been granted the county, should be based on a population basis. The commissioners also marked for Coffee County schools.

Wiley Deal Strapped Tuesday Morning

The Elba Rescue Squad answered a call Tuesday morning and picked up Wiley Deal, who had been injured in a stabbing earlier in the morning. He was taken to the Elba General Hospital and later transferred, at his request, to the VA hospital at Tuskegee.

Deal would not swear out a warrant against anyone for cutting him and law officers were unable to take any action in the matter even though they had been told who the assailant was.

ONE WOMAN was killed and her husband injured in this one car accident last Wednesday afternoon. The couple was from Gadsden and officers report the woman was driving. She was thrown from the car and it rolled over and over and apparently crushed by the car. The Elba Rescue Squad responded to the call and carried the couple to Enterprise. Just after entering Enterprise, the rescue unit lost a water pump and called for assistance from the Enterprise Rescue Squad, which carried the man to the hospital while an Enterprise funeral home removed the woman.

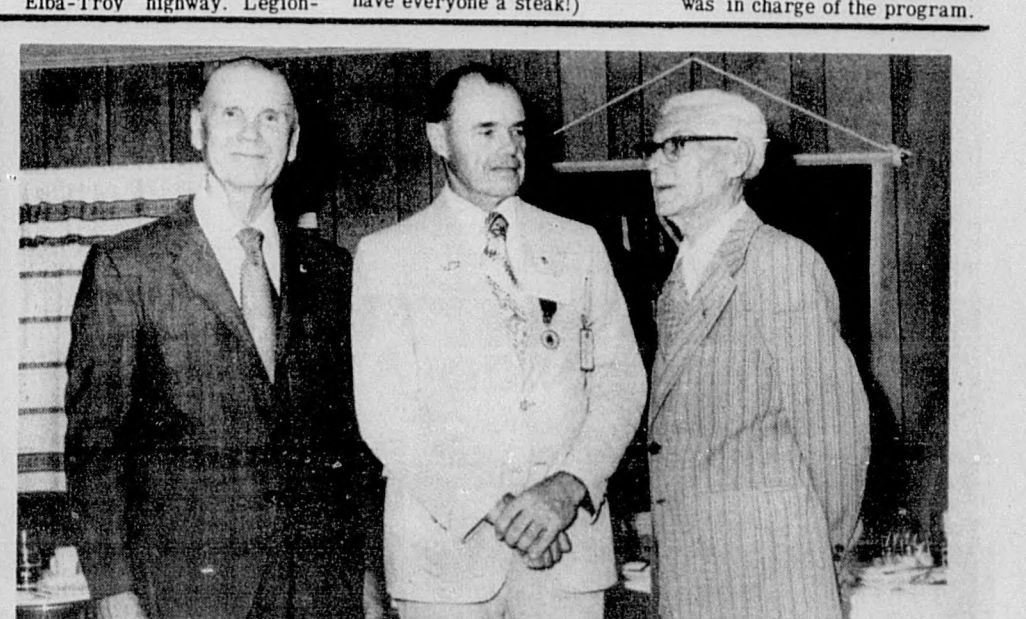

THE DRIVER escaped with only a skinned head and torn pants in this accident on Highway 84 East of Elba last Wednesday. He reported that the trailer of logs started swaying from side to side. When he applied the brakes it apparently caused the trailer to snap into and wreck the truck as he started back up the hill.

Rescue Squad Roadblock Set

The Elba Rescue Squad will be holding roadblocks in Elba Saturday until about 3:00 p.m. The Rescue Squad is a volunteer organization that operates on donations alone. The men who man the emergency ambulances receive no pay for their work—all they get is muddy shoes, bloody clothes and a satisfaction of knowing they are helping their fellowman. They need your support.

LEGION PLANS SUPPER

The local American post members have scheduled a dutch treat steak supper for Saturday night at 8:00 p.m. The supper will be held at the Legion Building on the Elba-Troy highway. Legionnaires and their family members are urged to attend. Those planning to attend should notify Holman Taylor by Thursday night - (so he will be sure and have everyone a steak!).

Elba Lions Select Officers For Coming Year

The award is for success in recruiting new members into the Lions Club. Picture at right honors two charter members of Elba Lions club. Robert Gholston, center, were charter members of the first Lions Club organized in Elba in 1925-26. The installation ceremonies were attended by Lions members and their wives. Also at the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Ferrin Cox, of The Elba Clipper.

LIVINGS FAMILY REUNION

Mrs. Martha Parker, Miss Sue Parker, Mrs. Ina Earl Brown, Mrs. Carol Pudge and children, Robert E. Parker and family, Billy Cox and family, Winford Padgett and family, Mrs. Eugene Brown, Malcolm Willis and family, Anthony H. Brown and children, Tony Hudson and family, Thomas Dorrough and family and Wilbur Dorrough and family all from Elba attended the reunion of the Livings family at the Coffee County Lake near Elba, Alabama on Saturday, July 6, 1974.

The Livings family first settled in Alabama about 1825 near Orton in Pike County. Alabama had only recently become a state and the southeast Alabama area had recently been acquired from the Indians. The country was wild and rugged but offered promise of a new life for the pioneer family.

About 1890 most of the family moved on into Covington County just north of Andalusia. Nathaniel Livings served as Sheriff of Covington County for two terms, and retired as Deputy Sheriff of Coffee County. Nat's brother, John Wesley also served one term as Sheriff of Covington County. Lee Sanford Livings served as Deputy Sheriff of Covington County and Coffee County and as police officer in many local communities. Henry Jackson Livings and Robert Wesley Livings worked both as farmers and as lumbermen. From these beginnings in law enforcement, furniture making, farming, gunsmithing, blacksmithing, and other skills grew a large family that now reaches across the nation. Many of these same skills and vocations are still practiced by the family members today.

Special tribute was given Mrs. Martha Parker of Elba and Mrs. Ollie Black of Pensacola, Florida, daughters of Robert Wesley Livings. They represent the oldest living generation of the family. Another honored member of the family was Mrs. Bernice Livings, widow of William H. "Bill" Brown, son of Ina Earl Brown, who served as official hostess, and grandson of Lee Sanford Livings. Mr. Brown has been doing research into the family history for about two years in prelude to the publication of a genealogical family history. Those present had an opportunity to review the work accomplished thus far on the history, and to contribute additional information.

Others in attendance at the reunion were William H. Brown and family and Willie Livings and family from Enterprise, Alabama and Lee E. Brown and family from New Brockton, AL. Mrs. A. L. Brummett, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Teel and family and Zeala Smith from Kinston, Alabama. Henry T. Little, Pansy Rowe, Bill Livings family, Mrs. Bettie Gray and son, Jim H. Thomas and family, all from Montgomery, Alabama. M. J. Livings, Sr., and family and William R. Parker and family from Troy.

Mrs. W. L. Livings and William S. Altman and family from Quincy, FL. Mr. John Livings and family from Tallahassee, FL. M. M. Carter, Jr., and family, Mrs. Ollie Black and Leon G. Barnes and family from Pensacola, FL. Emmett M. Williams and family, Leon Livings and family, Charles Watkins and family all of Prattville, AL. Willie Livings and family, Wesley and Agnes Blair, Herman Livings and Dot Baker and family, all from Elba, Alabama. Mrs. Bernice Livings, W. G. Mack and family, Gary Mack and family and Rebecca Kirkland, all of Opa, AL. Jim and Ann Norris of Bethel Island, California. Shelby Parker and family of Albany, GA. Mrs. Beverly Brown and family from Elgin, Illinois. Mrs. W. F. Sharp and sons of Irvine, California. Sid Thomas and family from Pinson, AL. Robert H. Livings and family from Fairdale, KY. Charles and Dorothy Livings of Nicholasville, KY. J. P. Gill and family of Warner Robins, GA. Wesley W. Livings and family from Biloxi, Miss. Joe Adamson and family from Ogden, Ill., and W. A. Temple and family from Ocala, Fla.

D. D. Cunningham and family from Ft. Pierce, FL. Mrs. S. J. Livings and children and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Neel and children from Panama City, FL. Mr. and Mrs. Olan Robertson from Campbellton, FL. Walter T. Livings and family from Columbia, South Carolina. Joe K. Whitman and wife of Omaha, Nebraska. Henry M. Cantrell and family and J. E. Nichols and family from East Tallahassee, AL. Mrs. Edwin M. Moore and Kevin from Sturgeon Bay, Wis. Drew and Irene Williams from Millbrook, AL. M. J. Livings, Jr., and family from Milton, FL. Madeline Livings and family from Thomasville, Ga. W. H. Dunn and family from Norfolk, Va. Jerry Livings and family from Auburn, AL., and Harold Livings and family from Opelika, AL. Louis S. Livings and family from Port St. Joe, FL. Embury Williams and family from Dehan, AL. Jack and Viola Morgan of Jacksonville, FL.

Approximately 200 attended the reunion.

As the young children played under the pines, the young ladies and young men walked along the lake, the older family members spent many hours meeting long lost relatives, meeting some for the first time, swapping family tales, taking snapshots, and all the other things people do at a gathering such as this. The meeting broke up about six o'clock in the evening, but not before most of the family members agreed that this should be an annual affair and they made plans to return next year.

Farming In 1974

By Thomas C. Casaday

Just about every farmer I know who is serious about his business is looking for ways to save time and money. "I've got about $3,000 more in this crop so far than I had in my crop last year at this time. I have the same acres in both peanuts and corn. In fact, this is by far the most expensive crop I have ever put in. This is how James Godwin of Route 1, Enterprise, on the Bellwood Road in Coffee County described his farming in 1974.

Godwin, who plants 60 acres of peanuts and 75 acres of corn, has been farming the past 15 years. He started for himself when he was 18 years old and has been gradually increasing since that time. His brother, Harold, and his father, C. E., help each other at planting using four-row equipment. Operating as a team, they are able to get in all of their planting in a relatively short period of time. Harvesting is also done cooperatively. One plows up and they run two peanut pickers. Godwin is doing something that only a few farmers in Coffee County are doing. For the second year in a row he has had his herbicides and fertilizer put out at the same time. This year on his peanut land he put out liquid 2-6-12 fertilizer just the recommended amount of Ver-nam and two-thirds the recommended amount of Baitan.

Godwin says this about his cropping system: "I saved us a lot. We only have one set of planters and close to 200 acres to plant and we start running behind when you consider that we are planting corn at the same time. The truck spreads about 25 acres per load. We can take two tractors and have it cut in per acre. He hired a custom operator to put this all out using a truck with three nozzles, and this covered a swath of 20-25 feet.

I asked Godwin how he handled his peanut crop. "Well, I didn't burn any of the corn stalks off this year. I disced my land twice and cut up the stalks that were there. I broke it about as deep as I can plow anywhere from 10-14 inches. It was as deep as I could with the tractor.

Asked about the time saved in putting out the fertilizer and herbicides, Godwin continued, "I have tried using liquid fertilizer for several years. I started putting it out on just 10 acres at a time, and I couldn't tell the difference between this and the way I had always fertilized my crop. I put Baitan and Ver-nam in with the liquid fertilizer. It sure is a big time saver for us."

Thinking of Godwin's operation reminded me that M. D. Bond, our peanut specialist at Auburn, told me recently that our research indicates that liquid fertilizer is just as effective as regular fertilizer. According to Bond, the material should be equally effective whether it is liquid or dry. Godwin says that he believes the liquid fertilizer is a little cheaper for him than the other. This could be due to savings in transportation costs and storage and spreading charges. Godwin fertilizes his corn and the same way. He mixes Aatrix with the liquid fertilizer to give weed and grass control.

Dorsey Earning Increase

The Dorsey Corporation (NYSE), leading manufacturer of glass and plastic containers and cargo trailers, announced recently that both sales and earnings continue to increase. Net sales for the six months ended June 30, 1974 of $73,873,000, an increase of 22% over the first half of 1973, represented another record level.

Elba Police Chief Jack Smart Resigns

Police Chief Jack Smart has resigned his position with the Elba Police Department effective August 16th. Represented his resignation to Mayor Owen Ziegler last week.

Smart stated in the letter he was remaining in Elba and would help the City and any city official at any time he could. He stated in this newspaper that he was resigning to devote more time to his cattle farming operation. "It just won't look after itself," Smart said.

Chief Smart has served as chief since October 1968, this time, having served from December 1961 until the fall of 1965. He is a veteran of 21 years in the Army. 14 of these as a military policeman.

Several months ago Smart moved from the chief's job and working a shift, allowing him more time on the farm. At that time told this newspaper that he had decided to try to handle both his job and the farm a little longer. However, after taking three days off last week to build fences, he realized the farming was a full-time job and prepared his resignation. It was dated August 16th to allow the city officials time to make a decision on his replacement.

Portrait of Founder Unveiled at Windham Power Lifts

Paul Windham was honored recently by a number of his business associates. Windham was surprised with the unveiling of a large color portrait of himself that will hang in the lobby of Windham Power Lifts, a firm bearing his name which he organized with several local businessmen in the early 1960's. The business has grown from a beginning of $125,000 to an estimated 1974 gross income of over $5 million.

City Praises James Clay For Service

The Elba City Council passed a resolution at the last regular meeting, thanking Dr. James L. Clay for his years of service on the Elba School Board. Clay was recently replaced on the school board when his last term expired and he asked not to be re-appointed.

The resolution, which was signed by the Mayor and five councilmen, was filed with the usual Whereas, and Therefore, but is summed up below:

The city fathers have a deep respect for capable leadership and after careful consideration they feel James Clay has exhibited such leadership for years on the school board. They admire and thank Clay for the leadership and capable advice he has provided. The council believes that Clay has shown genuine concern for enhancing the quality of life for the citizens and children of Elba.

Commissioners Consider Pay Raises

The Coffee County Commission met in regular session at 10:00 a.m. on July 22, 1974 at the Elba Courthouse. The following members were present: O. V. Waters, J. A. Dyess, Flournoy Whitman, Byron Galloway, Don Smith, Bennie Beckham, and James L. Sawyer, Judge of the Probate and Chairman.

On a motion by J. A. Dyess, seconded by O. V. Waters, the commission voted unanimously to amend the minutes to read $50,000.00 deposited into the Gasoline Fund and $25,000.00 to SACP Fund, instead of $75,000.00 to the General Fund as it was originally stated.

The commission voted for the Coffee County Commission to pay the Southeast Alabama Regional Planning and Development Commission an annual assessment for Coffee County membership of $6,974.40, which figures $1,743.60 quarterly assessment. This action occurred on a motion by O. V. Waters, seconded by Don Smith.

Bennie Beckham motioned that the list of equipment from the commodity office now assigned to the Food Stamp Program be made a part of the minutes. Byron Galloway seconded this motion. All members voted in favor of the proposal.

The meeting was adjourned on a motion by J. A. Dyess, seconded by Bennie Beckham. The commission will meet on July 31, 1974 in the Elba Courthouse at 11:00 a.m.

Right-To-Read Program OK For Elba

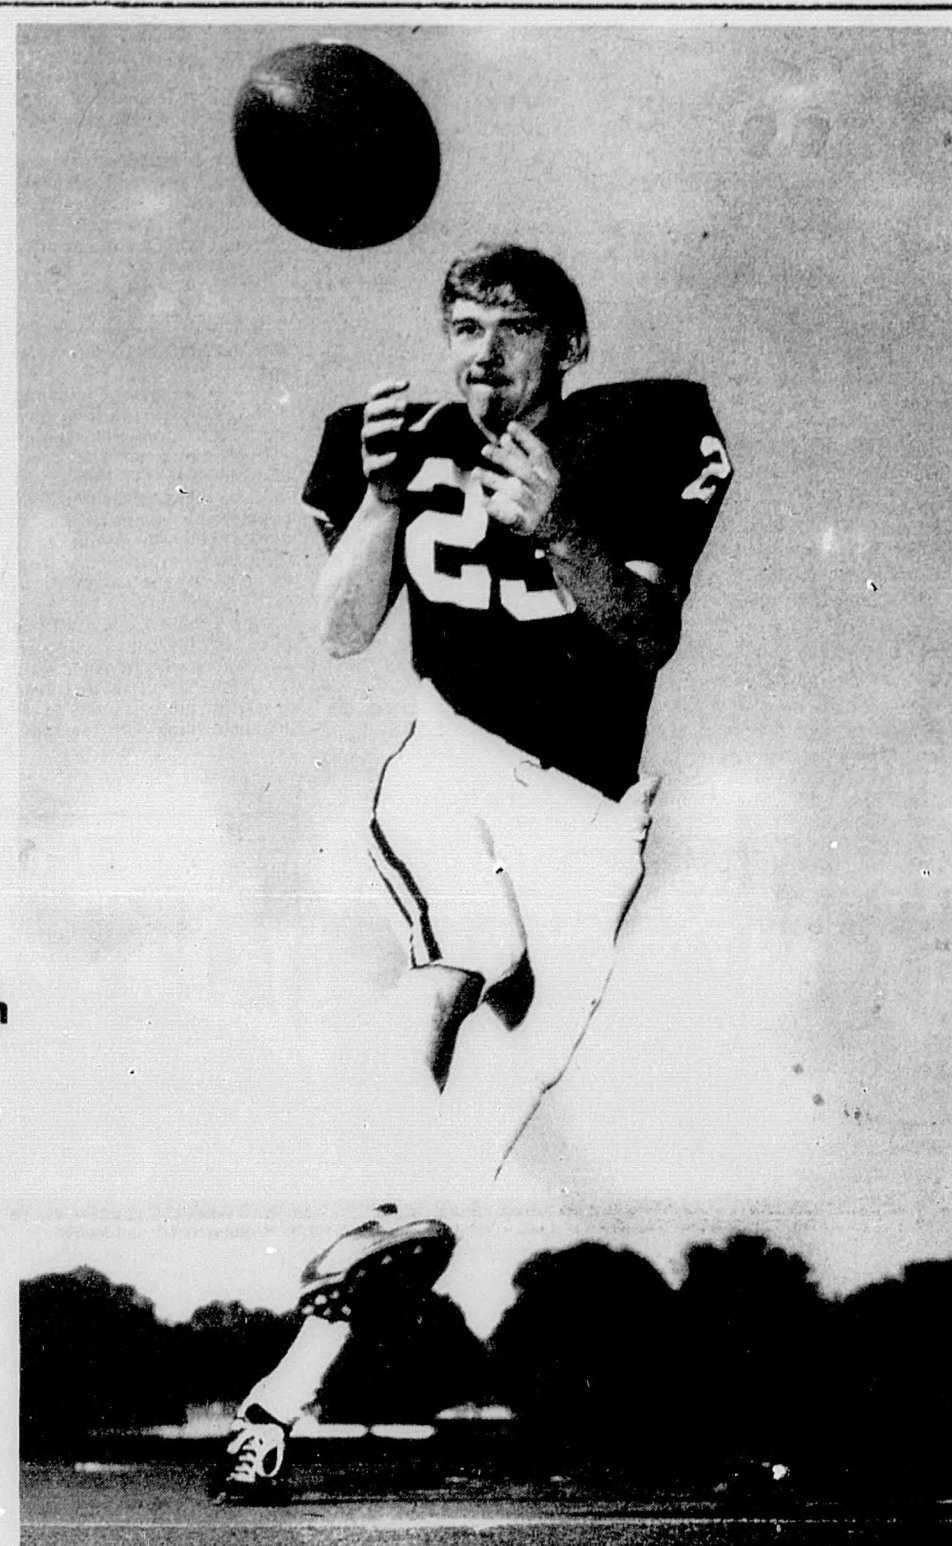

Elba Elementary is involved in a special two-year Right-to-Read project with Michigan State University to help children cope with reading difficulties and improve their ability to keep up with their school work.

Conducted by MSU's College of Urban Development, the program must have been involved recently in the desegregation process, have a 20 to 50 percent minority student enrollment, and must not use the program to segregate within the school, for example, forming black and white "ability" groups.

Individual schools may develop their own specific objectives. Some have established the goal of improving the reading ability of all students in the school or school system. Others direct their efforts toward improving the reading skills of only those students who achieve low scores on standardized reading tests.

CUD's "technical assistance" team helps the schools participating to evaluate their situations and determine their goals for the reading program. They also help teach school personnel the most effective means of achieving their goals.

Part of the national Right-to-Read program, the CUD project is financed by the U. S. Office of Education according to provisions of the Emergency School Aid Act. Participating schools receive funds directly from the Office of Education. Elba Elementary received a grant of $57,600.00 for this project.
